Fifty Years Later

By Michael Herman Sommers

Fortunate are we for making reunion number fifty,
It's golden anniversary time ··· pretty darn nifty.
Famous or infamous, we're still in the game,
Trying to keep breathing is still our aim,
Yet antiquated for some reason we all became.

Yuck clogs our arteries, our bodies need new parts,
Ears don't work as good, neither does our hearts.
A lot of us have decided to retire,
Rest and relaxation we tend to desire,
Senility sets in, our minds go haywire.

Live it up tonight! Let down your hairdo!
Auburn High School! Class of 1962!
This is high drama! ··· A real to-do!
Enjoy your classmates! We've lost quite a few!
Renew! Rehash! Recapture! This in not déjà vu!

We all know that Classmate Sommers can spin a great poem, but this is quite a fish story! Here is Mike with a 10-3/4 inch bluegill he caught May 28, 2011, in Branch County, MI with a 14-foot pole and red wigglers as bait.

The Previous Poems

Thirty Years Later

Thirty years later for the class of "62,"
The years have been many, but seem quite few.

We've all had our ups, we've all had
our downs,
Our era was a good one, nostalgia
abounds.

Being with friends, a time to reminisce,
Greeting that old flame, with a hug or
a kiss.

For some it's "Let me tell you what I did!"
For others, "I got a new grandkid!"

Our bodies are starting to show some
wear,
And creeping in comes gray hair.

Bifocals tend to be needed,
Memory at times is deleted.

But we have a lot to be thankful for,
And memories of A.H.S. really soar.

Fortunate are we to be together again,
This is gonna be fun! Man oh man!

Thirty-Five Years Later

First A.H.S. died, now our building has been put to rest,
The powers that be thought this was for the best.

Now in our fifties, we've joined up with
AARP,
Saving money at motels is really pretty sharp.

Forgetting things tends to be done more
and more,
A nice quiet night at home we seem to adore.

We have to keep fighting cholesterol and
our weight,
And "What a treat!" a digital check of our prostate.

But, this special time together really
rates,
Because it's great to see our old classmates.

We don't mind if you're in poverty or
rich,
We don't mind if you look like a witch.

Cliques are over, intimidations have ended,
Relations are better, attitudes have mended.

What's important now is just seeing you,
Helps make the memories come back anew.

Forty Years Later

Where have the years gone? Time is but a blur.
The highly anticipated millennium surely did occur.

More and more of us both parents have passed,
Makes us the older generation real fast.

Bringing back the past is so much fun,
Memories return of things said and done.

Our old music sure had lots of feeling,
Today we have rap...not very appealing!

At "Reuters" it was burgers, fries and a malt,
Today we hear fiber, less sugar, and no salt.

These reunions sure make emotions soar,
Can't wait to get on that dance floor,
Thanks to Jackie Rowan – my recent mentor.

Can't buy this much fun in any store.
This is beyond any doubt – Top Drawer.

Sure wish we had a few nights more!

Forty-five Years Later

Where did it go? Time has gone by lickety-split,
Fortunate are we whose breathing has not quit.

Is it possible that we are in our sixties?
Is it possible we can't find our car keys?

Some of us are retired,
Many of us are just tired.

Our lives are filled with new gadgets and gismos,
Technology is exploding, but our comprehension slows.

Oft times we pride ourselves in being "Old School",
In today's language that means "Old Fool"!

Gone are the days of the three R's,
Gone are the days of the nickel candy bars.

Most of our old teachers are long gone,
But legendary "Bobby" Love still hangs on.

All things considered, it's been a good ride,
We've been around the block...our needs supplied.

So let's enjoy this night; seize the moment,
Time is fleeting; make it well spent!
